

Matt Wuolle
Senior Director
Royalty Distribution Technology

Matt Wuolle is the Senior Director of Royalty Distribution Technology for HFA. He has responsibility for all technical projects for the distribution of royalties to HFA's over 37,000 publishers. Wuolle joined HFA in 1998, and starting as Distributions Analyst, has worked his way up through the department to his current role. He reports to Ed Hunt, Senior Vice President of Publisher Services and Distributions.

Wuolle received his MFA and Phd (ABD) in Music Composition from Princeton University. He also has a BM in Music Composition from the University of South Florida. During his studies, he held a number of positions in the music industry, including scoring and engineering soundtracks for film, educational, corporate, and arts uses; training evaluators of the Educational Testing Service theory and ear training sections of Music Exams; Assistant Instructor at Princeton University; Director's Assistant for University of South Florida Recording Studios; and Audio Specialist for State of Florida Teacher Certification Examinations.

He continues to compose music and perform his original jazz/rock/classical avant-garde works on a guitar.
